2. If I were a merchant
I'd bring you six diamonds
With six blood red roses
For my love to wear.
3. If I were a nobleman
I'd bring you six carriages
With six snow white horses
To take you anywhere.
4. If I were the emperor
I'd build you six palaces
With six hundred servants
For comforting care.
5. If I were a minstrel
I'd sing you six love songs,
To tell the whole world
Of the love that we share.
6. So be not afraid, my love,
You're never alone, love,
While you wear my ribbons
Tie'n back your hair.
